STONY BATTERERS

Novel Fjectment Proceedings by a Father and Son

Captain Hookano, officer Zablan and others had quite an adventure yesterday evening. A report had been made to the Station that some one was throwing stones at a house on School street near Liliha street. The officers entered the house and The officers entered the house and found the occupants taking no notice of the stone throwing. The men searched the premises and although the stones were still falling on the house, the throwers could not be located. Among those who assisted in the skirmishing were Antone Pimenta and his fifteen-yea old son Joaquin. The houses of natives living in the vicinity were entered, but no people were seen. entered, but no people were seen.
Finally a last search was decided on.
Three of the officers went ahead and two stayed behind. As the men were walking along Joaquin Pimenta was seen to take a stone out of his pocket and throw it on the roof of the house. He was immediately nabbed and so was the father Antone. In their pockets were found a number of stones. It appears that while pretending to search for the culprits the boy and his father were throwing the stones. The stone throw-ing had been continuing for weeks before, and neighbors suspected it was the work of ghosts. Even a mounted patrolman had been heard to report that ghosts were haunting the house, the owner, a native named Jack, having died only recently. Both prisoners with relatives lived in the same house. There was bad feeling arose between the parties, and the Pimentas took this mode of trying to rid the house of the other occupants. The son was convicted some time ago of setting fire to the Halawa plantation at Kebala and was sentenced to the Reform school. He got out a little while back.

LIVELY FOR SUGAR MEN

Probable Eff-ct of Retaliation Against Spain's Discrimination.

New York, December 18 - Unless all signs fail to-morrow will be a very lively day on the Stock Exchange so far as trading in sugar is concerned. Private advices from Washington report that Secretary of State Gresham has cabled the Spanish Government that persistence on its part in discriminating against exports from this country to Cuba in favor of Canada will invite retaliation under the Act of 1890 against Cuban sugars.

The importance of Mr. Gresham's ultimatum may be gathered from the fact that fully 2,000,000,000 pounds of sugar come into this country from Cuban plantations—about half the actual consumption of the United States. If this sugar is shut out from our refineries by heavy prohibitive duties it must of necessity find its way to European countries, and in turn return to this country in the form of refined sugar. Sugar authorities on Wall street interpret the result of such an action as a serious blow to the trust, as it will flood this country with foreign refined sugars.

Whatever may be the result of Secretary Gresham's negotiations with the Spanish Government the dispatch above quoted is likely to stimulate the sugar industry considerably in Europe. Meanwhile the sugar war among wholesale grocers in various parts of the country goes merrily along, and the present depression only emphasizes the sharp competition that is engaged in on all sides. The fact that sugar represents one third of the business of the grocer shows how things are

CHRISTMAS CAROLS.

Impressive Service Held by St Andrew's Second Congregation.

Attracted by the singing of Christ mas carols, a very large congrega-tion was present at St. Andrew's Cathedral Sunday evening, when a number of pretty carols were sung by the choir of ladies and gentle-men Rev. Alex. Mackintosh in-toned the first part of the service. The carols, six in number, were well sung by the choir. One, "Ring, the Christmas Bells," was given with bell accompaniment. The Christmas song, "Noel," was played on the violin by Joseph Rosen, who was behind the altar and not seen at all by the congregation. A very soft organ accompaniment was furnished by Wray Taylor, and the effect of the violin and organ together was exceedingly fine. At the close of the service that bright hymn, "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing," was sung.

HIS LEG BROKEN.

Accident to a Native Laborer on the Water Front.

A native laborer had his left leg broken below the kuee this morning on the bark C. D. Bryant. The Bryant was receiving sugar from the steamer Pele. One of the slings of ten bags of sugar came over the side of the Bryant, and before the man could get out of the way he was struck and knocked down on deck. The man was unable to stir after falling. He was picked up, carried ashore and sent in a wagon to the hospital. Precautions for preventing a repetition of the accident were taken by those on board afterwards, a man being stationed on the rail on the side of the Bryant.
